

The Federal Redistribution 2009
QUEENSLAND

Objection Number 45

Robyn Kiesecker

1 page

From: Robyn Kieseker [studyingagain@hotmail.com]
Sent: Tuesday, 11 August 2009 9:37 PM
To: QLD Redistribution
Subject: qld redistribution

i want to know how all the seats no matter how big or small are meant to have the same number of people in them and how come bonner and wright are so large. i cannot understand that every seat has the same number of people in them no matter their size, especially those small ones in brisbane. they can't have the same number of people in those seats as the others in the state. i find that bonner and wright are very large, especially wright and it seems to be much bigger than any of the other seats. the fact that wright has been created in qld and taken away other parts of seats around it makes it too large and would appear to have more people in the seat than other seats. this is in no way fair that small seats and large seats are said to have the same amount of people in them. this is impossible given the outback populations in qld and taking parts of other seats to create wright. wright should be made smaller and more representative of the other seats in qld.

robyn
po box 2
masnfield qld 4122

Check the daily blob for the latest on what's happening around the web What goes online, stays online