Dear Sir,

I have viewed with concern the proposed new electoral boundaries which will seriously affect the residents in this area - Biggenden District

The lands of the former Biggenden Shire, situated east of the Burnett River are shown on new maps as being excised from HINKLER and WIDE BAY and included in FLYNN.

People, hereabouts, since early settlement, have had an affinity with Maryborough and Bundaberg, so those cities are important to them for specialist medical services, higher education for our families, service in commerce, and for sport and recreation.

I know that population defines electoral boundaries, but that "people's" needs should be of prime consideration too when making dividing lines.

We are a long way from Western Queensland and none of our community services come from Gladstone.

Please consider these factors. Even our North/South and East/West bulge, as shown on maps, fits neatly under Hinkler

Sincerely,
Alison White
