Agency Purpose

The Australian Electoral Commission (AEC) is an independent statutory authority established by the Australian Government to maintain an impartial and independent electoral system for eligible voters through active electoral roll management, efficient delivery of polling services, and targeted education and public awareness programs.

The AEC's values and commitments

The AEC values and commitments are an essential component of our operating environment and frame how AEC staff work. The AEC's focus is on electoral integrity through the values of quality, agility and professionalism.

Locations

The AEC is geographically diverse with a National Office in Canberra, a State Office in each state capital and a Northern Territory Office in Darwin. Each state is divided into electoral divisions (there are 150 across Australia), which may alter in accordance with changes to the distribution of electoral boundaries.

Work Environment

The Division of McMillan is located in the town of Warragul which is 104 kilometres east- southeast of Melbourne. The Divisional Office consists of the Divisional Office Manager (APS 6), the Divisional Office Clerk (APS 3) and a part-time Divisional Office Assistant (APS 2) working as a team across the program outcomes. Office Staffing is supplemented by temporary employees as required and is managed remotely by an Operations Manager from the Victorian State Office located in Melbourne. The AEC is committed to the APS values of being impartial, committed to service, accountable, respectful and ethical.
