

Electoral enrolment of a prisoner in Tasmania

Use this form to • enrol or • change your details on the electoral roll

IMPORTANT — Please read the information on this page before you start to fill in the form

Enrolment and voting

Can you enrol and vote while you are in prison?

If you are in prison, you are eligible to enrol and vote in federal and Tasmanian state elections if:

- your sentence is less than 3 years, and
- you are an Australian citizen, or a British subject who was on a Commonwealth Electoral Roll on 25 January 1984, and
- you are 18 years of age or older.

You may enrol at 17 but you may not vote until you are 18.

Note: If you were already enrolled when you started serving your sentence of less than 3 years, you are eligible to remain on the electoral roll. By completing this form you are advising us that you are absent from your enrolled address. This will ensure you are not removed from the roll while you are in prison.

You can check whether you are currently enrolled on the Australian Electoral Commission's (AEC) website at www.aec.gov.au or call 13 23 26.

Do you have to enrol and vote?

If you are 18 or over and otherwise eligible (see 'Can you enrol and vote while you are in prison?') it is compulsory to enrol and vote in federal elections and referendums. You may be fined if you do not vote.

You are also eligible to enrol and vote in Tasmanian state elections.

In which electorate can you enrol?

You must enrol for the electoral area:

- A in which you were last eligible to be enrolled (this will generally be the place where you last lived for at least one month),
- B in which one of your next of kin is currently enrolled if you have not previously been eligible to enrol,
- C in which you were born, if neither of the above apply, or
- D with which you have the closest connection if you were not born in Australia.

What happens when you are released?

After your release you must complete a new enrolment form to advise us of your new address so that we can update the electoral roll. You can get an enrolment form at any Australia Post outlet or at www.aec.gov.au

What happens when you send in your form?

The AEC will verify the details you have provided before updating the electoral roll. Written advice will be sent to you showing your enrolment details.

If you don't receive the advice or if you have any questions relating to your enrolment, you can call the AEC on 13 23 26.

Who has access to your enrolment information

The general public

The electoral roll can be inspected at any Australian Electoral Commission office or at the Tasmanian Electoral Commission. Only names and addresses are provided on the publicly available roll.

The Commonwealth of Australia

Under the Commonwealth Electoral Act 1918, enrolment information is given to –

- Members of Parliament and registered political parties – includes title, name and address, postal address, date of birth and gender.
- Candidates for House of Representatives elections.
- The electoral authorities of those states and territories that have entered into a joint roll arrangement with the Commonwealth – includes title, name and address, postal address, date of birth and gender of electors in other states and territories.
- Approved medical research and public health screening programs – includes name and address, gender and age range – minimum span 2 years.
- Australian government agencies such as Centrelink, the Australian Taxation Office and the Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade – may include name and address, date of birth and gender to assist in investigation and prevention of breaches of the law, or protection of public revenue. A full list of agencies entitled to this information is available from www.aec.gov.au and the Australian Electoral Commission.

The State of Tasmania

Roll information may be supplied by the Tasmanian Electoral Commission to Members of Parliament, registered political parties, candidates and organisations approved by the Commission.

The Commission may approve the supply of roll information for ethically approved medical research, to assist in investigation and prevention of breaches of the law or protection of public revenue, and for other purposes considered to be for the benefit of the individual or the community as a whole.

The Electoral Act 2004 provides penalties for the use of rolls other than for a purpose permitted under the Act or as approved by the Commission.

Authorisation to collect the information on this form is contained in the Commonwealth Electoral Act 1918 and the Tasmanian Electoral Act 2004.
