Over the three years we have been living in the federal electorate of Cowan, we have established an excellent working relationship with our elected member, Dr Anne Aly, in working through a complex business matter which is a long way from resolution. To suddenly have this relationship cut off by a boundary distribution that places us in Pearce where current circumstances leave us with little confidence of adequate federal representation. Our contention is that the expected population growth in the northern suburbs is adequate to maintain the current boundary between Pearce and Cowan, thus minimising the disruption that changing boundaries can cause in working relationships between constituents and their parliamentary representatives.

Kind regards

Dennis and Jenny Ryle
