Redistribution Committee for NSW.

Sydney, NSW, 2002.

Dear Members,

I would like to add my voice to the thousands of protesters who objected very strongly to the proposed electoral boundary changes. We who live in the Sydney Electorate are real people not numbers or lines on a map and we expect to have our voices heard in matters regarding our country's future, its present, and our own area in particular. Take this away from us and include us in a vast area where individual voices cannot be heard and you destroy any sense of fairness in our daily lives, or any hope that we can be fairly represented in matters concerning us directly.

We would assume that when this proposal was first mooted that sufficient concern for country folk was not considered & that on reflection a more equitable division of electorates will take place. We must keep our Sydney Electorate and our Heritage.

Yours faithfully,

(Mrs.) J. S. Hockings
