Dear Sir,

I am writing to express my concerns regarding the proposed federal electoral boundaries changes in NSW.

Wiping Gyndei would make Parkes and Cabare unmanageable, especially in the context of number of communities represented.

It is common sense that the most equitable way to make electorates balanced is to use the number of communities represented, not just the simplistic formula of number of electors.

The needs of people within communities varies less than the needs of communities themselves.

Society itself relies on strong well supported communities.

Malcolm Rouse. MR
