TO who it may concern;

I have lived for approximately 40 years in the seat of Gwydir. The seat of Gwydir already covers a substantial area of the state, with long distances between major centres. How is an elected member of parliament going to be able to satisfactorily serve the people, if they have to cover an area the size of the one proposed. The region proposed has a huge variety of industrial, social and agricultural issues to be addressed. How can one elected member successfully grasp and tackle all these issues for the people they represent.

My wife and I honestly believe the proposal to merge the electoral seats of Gwydir and Parkes is blind to the fair political representation we have a right to! We are totally opposed to the proposal.
