Dear Sir,

Having lived in the Gwydir Electorate for over 60 years, & now retired in Tareworth, I am deeply concerned that the Commission now proposes to abolish this country seat. It is not possible for one member to adequately serve such an enormous area & the country people need someone they can discuss problems that arise in areas relative to their occupations. With long distances to travel, petrol prices & a drought to cope with, it is impossible to be away from their businesses for long periods & then get no results for their efforts.

I urge you to reconsider this proposal, & to leave the boundaries as they stand - we have always been well served by our Gwydir member & need a voice to represent us in Parliament in future.

Yours truly,
T. A. Friend.
