Dear Members,

I would ask you to find a solution to your problems without abolishing the seat of Gympie.

Your present plan to enlarge the seat of Parkes would mean that great numbers of us would to all intents and purposes be disenfranchised.

No human could effectively service such a large area, and there are many sizeable towns with different industries and different problems. The area should not be compared with Kalgoorlie which has a large unpopulated area.

Every member of Parliament is entitled to a home life and if these western electorates are made bigger, a member's home life would be certain to suffer.

Whatever way you look at it, dramatically increasing the size of Parkes and abolishing Gympie is quite unjust.

Please reconsider your present plan.

Yours faithfully
(Mrs) Margaret Oldfield
