Dear Sirs:

I feel that I must object to the making a giant seat out of 47% of N.S.W.

Firstly it would be impossible for one person to represent that area, especially when you consider the diverse earning powers of that area.

Firstly you have Wool, mutton, wheat, beef, other grains (canola and etc) and mining, and these industries contribute to the well-being of this state.

I think you would be better off abolishing a metropolitan seat or two, to get fairer representation.

To me it appears that the requirements for communities of interest and the size of the electorates to be considered in the redistribution process have been ignored.

Once again I say that I must object very strongly to abolishing the seat of Greydir.

I Remain

F. M. Mendham
