Subject re: redistribution of nsw boundaries

Classification Unclassified

My husband and I strenuously object to the electorate of Gwydir being lumped into the Parkes electorate as has been publicised recently. We feel this is another way that country people are being discriminated against just because we live in a much larger area than the Cities. We hope that common sense will prevail and that someone will come up with a much better idea than this. Please give this some more thought before a decision is made. Listen to John Anderson. He has served us well and knows how ridiculous this new suggestion is. Don't punish country people anymore.
Thank you. Kevin and Margaret Robinson
