Dear Members,

It is with great concern that I write regarding the redistribution of NSW electoral seats & the resulting abolishment of Cuydin & the creation of the mega-seat Parkes. How ludicrous to think that one person could represent effectively the people spread across 47% of NSW.

In the most recent NSW electoral redistribution, the Commissioners were mindful of the huge size of the State seat of Murray-Darling & those Commissioners took the opportunity to reduce the size of that electorate. It is perplexing that in this current redistribution such a large seat would be unnecessarily created.

The estimated growth rate provided by the Australian Electoral Commission do not predict Parkes or Croydon to have the lowest rates of growth.

By creating such a large electorate the proposal effectively reduces the voice of country people in the Fed'l Parliament.

I strongly urge that the draft boundaries for NSW be redrawn in the interest of fair representation.

Yours Sincerely,

~~D.C. Amo~~
