To Whom It May Concern.

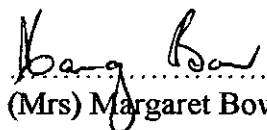

I feel that I must voice my disgust in the manner that the former electorate of Gwydir has been lost to make way for one extremely large electorate.

How ever will the successful representative get around the electorate to assist his electors?

I feel that in making the decision that you have, you have driven another nail in the coffin of the small towns in the bush. As though suffering from the effects of the drought and unable obtain suitable staff to work in the outback we are now faced with this situation where our representative may live as far away as Parkes which is a good five to seven hour drive from the most distant part of the electorate.

For goodness sake put yourselves in the situation and use some common sense, if you need to have less electorates take some from the cities, at least they do not have to travel so far to service the electorate.

Yours sincerely,

(Mrs) Margaret Bow
