Dear Sirs,

Re: Abolishment of the government seat of Gwydir.

I wish to protest strongly against this happening. If this is incorporated into the seat of Parkes, it would be physically impossible for one person to be able to service such a large area.

It would be 5 times the size of Tasmania, which is served by 5 sitting members and would once again prove how country people are not considered or valued as are the residents of the coastal areas.

People died for the right for everyone to vote and have a say in the running of the country. If this amalgamation should take place, you have effectively removed the right from country people to have any say in the government of our land.

I ask you to please consider very carefully before such a foolish event should occur

Thanking you,
Yours faithfully,

Mrs A Melvil
