Dear Sir/Madam,

I strongly object to the redistribution of boundaries as we in the country have so far to travel compared to the city person. When country electorates are combined we in the country lose a voice in parliament, this cannot possibly provide us with fair and equitable representation.

The Australian Electoral Commission's proposal creates a new electorate of Parkes that would be almost 380,000 square kilometres in size, or 47% of NSW. By creating such a huge electorate the proposal effectively reduces the voice of country people in the Federal Parliament.

Trusting you take this on board before final decisions are made.

Yours sincerely,

Patricia Doyle
