Dear Sir,

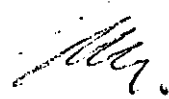

We are writing to express our objection to the proposed abolition of the Federal seat of Gwydir and the combining of that area in to the Federal Seat of Parkes.

We strongly feel that as small country towns and rural properties loose population because of the effects of drought and low commodity prices the need is for more help and representation not less.

The proposed area of the new Parkes electorate will be something like 376000 Square Kilometers... which is far too large an area for one person to be able to represent the citizens in any sort of adequate manner.

Please re-consider you proposal and let common sense rule over statistics.

Yours truly,
Collin and Yvonne Pardy
