Subject Comment on objections to proposed redistribution - Tasmania

Dear AEC

Please accept this email as a comment on objections to proposed redistribution in Tasmania.

My comment is to support all the objectors who support a change in name for the division of Denison, to Inglis Clark. I have read your reasoning and find it hard to accept. Andrew Inglis Clark is one of the truly great Australians - not just Tasmanian - and deserves at least the honour of an electoral division as a permanent legacy. Governor Denison, by comparison, made very little positive impact on Tasmania, and left the state once his @tour of duty@ was over. There is no comparison.

I think if you revisit your logic you will see the grave error you have made.

Thank you for this opportunity to comment.

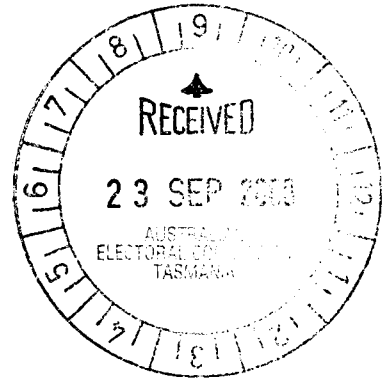

Yours sincerely

Peter Tucker
