People, I refer to the proposed redistribution for North Sydney and in particular to the proposed shifting of 14,000 voters from Cremorne and Neutral Bay to...Warringah (somewhere I rarely ever go to as it is geographically and culturally isolated from me in Cremorne )

I would like to raise my objection to it .

It is geographically isolated and has nothing in common with the residents in the North Sydney, Crows Nest and Willoughby areas who are happy with existing arrangements.

It is isolated by the Spit bridge and indeed by Middle Harbour.

We are currently in North Sydney Council area, and similarly in the State Government electorate for the same area.

All our public amenities are provided by the north Sydney area.

To change us to an electorate far outside where we travel is ludicrous in the extreme and certainly needs a rethink.

If anything, Mosman residents should be brought into the electorate and the North Sydney boundary restricted on the western side

The only sense it makes is from an ideological perspective, and that is clearly NOT the role of the Australian Electoral Commission

I strongly object to the proposal !
