Redistribution Committee
Australian Electoral Commission
PO Box K406
Haymarket. NSW. 1240

To Whom it May Concern

I think it is ridiculous that the Electorate of Reid will be dismembered to three or four parts resulting in the name of the prominent early Prime Minister, George Houston Reid, being removed as the name of our Electoral Division. In my opinion George Reid is rightly called the Father of Federation. He was a former Premier, Prime Minister and first High Commissioner to the U.K. He served Australia as a public figure from 1879 to 1916. The name of George Reid should not be dishonoured by splitting up the core area of the Electorate of Reid. The seat of Reid has stood thus since 1922.

This change, and the sacking of our Member of Parliament, Laurie Ferguson, has made me so angry I have taken up the attached petition. This petition reflects the views of a majority of local residents and has been distributed by me and some of my friends, to give the people of this area the option to express their anger and objection. I feel that many locals would be unable to express their opinion without this petition, as many are saying it makes no sense to divide the community without any clear boundaries.

My husband and I are both migrants from Ireland and have two adult sons born in Auburn hospital. We settled firstly in Lidcombe later moving to Granville, suburbs on which the Electorate of Reid is centred. The electoral office at Granville provides much needed help, advice and services, to the many newly arrived migrants and current residents and citizens of the Electorate.

As Australians and residents of Granville we are proud of our Irish heritage and the contributions many like us have made to Local, State and Federal politics. I trust therefore that this petition will be treated in the manner in which it was written and signed by the residents of the Electorate of Reid.

Yours sincerely

BRIGID GUINAN

Objection to the 2009 Federal Redistribution Proposal as it affects the Electorate of Reid

We, the undersigned voters of the Electorate of Reid, object to the proposal to eliminate this Electoral Division on the following basis:

1. The Seat of Reid is named for former NSW Premier and former Prime Minister George Reid, and is consistent with naming Electoral Divisions. Another former NSW Premier, Jack Lang also represented Reid in the Federal Parliament.
2. The proposal to create a new seat of McMahon, after Sir William McMahon, a former Prime Minister, should not be made at the expense of the memory of an earlier Prime Minister. This new seat is proposed to encompass a considerable portion of the Reid Electorate notably from Duck River bounded by the Water Pipe Line to Centenary Drive at Homebush.
3. The proposal divides the suburb of Granville, effectively the centre of Reid into at least two divisions those of Blaxland and Parramatta. The Reid Electorate Office has been established in Granville for approximately 50 years.
4. The proposal eliminates natural boundaries such as the Sydney Potts Hill /Prospect water pipe line, the Western railway line, the Liverpool Granville or Liverpool Regents Park railway lines, Parramatta River and Duck River. It instead meanders through suburban streets along a boundary that is unrecognized by local residents. The already high informal vote will increase.
5. Related to the above is the lack of community of interest contained in the proposals, ie the residents of Lidcombe, Auburn, Granville, and Harris Park live in suburbs established in the early formation of New South Wales, share a common industrial base from that era and have long been the significant area of first settlements for migrants. These areas are contained within the natural boundaries formerly mentioned.

Objection to the 2009 Federal Redistribution Proposal as it affects the Electorate of Reid

We, the undersigned voters of the Electorate of Reid, object to the proposal to eliminate this Electoral Division on the following basis:

1. The Seat of Reid is named for former NSW Premier and former Prime Minister George Reid, and is consistent with naming Electoral Divisions. Another former NSW Premier, Jack Lang also represented Reid in the Federal Parliament.
2. The proposal to create a new seat of McMahon, after Sir William McMahon, a former Prime Minister, should not be made at the expense of the memory of an earlier Prime Minister. This new seat is proposed to encompass a considerable portion of the Reid Electorate notably from Duck River bounded by the Water Pipe Line to Centenary Drive at Homebush.
3. The proposal divides the suburb of Granville, effectively the centre of Reid into at least two divisions those of Blaxland and Parramatta. The Reid Electorate Office has been established in Granville for approximately 50 years.
4. The proposal eliminates natural boundaries such as the Sydney Potts Hill /Prospect water pipe line, the Western railway line, the Liverpool Granville or Liverpool Regents Park railway lines, Parramatta River and Duck River. It instead meanders through suburban streets along a boundary that is unrecognized by local residents. The already high informal vote will increase.
5. Related to the above is the lack of community of interest contained in the proposals, ie the residents of Lidcombe, Auburn, Granville, and Harris Park live in suburbs established in the early formation of New South Wales, share a common industrial base from that era and have long been the significant area of first settlements for migrants. These areas are contained within the natural boundaries formerly mentioned.

We, the undersigned voters of the Electorate of Reid, object to the proposal to eliminate this Electoral Division on the following basis:

1. The Seat of Reid is named for former NSW Premier and former Prime Minister George Reid, and is consistent with naming Electoral Divisions. Another former NSW Premier, Jack Lang also represented Reid in the Federal Parliament.
2. The proposal to create a new seat of McMahon, after Sir William McMahon, a former Prime Minister, should not be made at the expense of the memory of an earlier Prime Minister. This new seat is proposed to encompass a considerable portion of the Reid Electorate notably from Duck River bounded by the Water Pipe Line to Centenary Drive at Homebush.
3. The proposal divides the suburb of Granville, effectively the centre of Reid into at least two divisions those of Blaxland and Parramatta. The Reid Electorate Office has been established in Granville for approximately 50 years.
4. The proposal eliminates natural boundaries such as the Sydney Potts Hill /Prospect water pipe line, the Western railway line, the Liverpool Granville or Liverpool Regents Park railway lines, Parramatta River and Duck River. It Instead meanders through suburban streets along a boundary that is unrecognized by local residents. The already high informal vote will increase.
5. Related to the above is the lack of community of interest contained in the proposals, ie the residents of Lidcombe, Auburn, Granville, and Harris Park live in suburbs established in the early formation of New South Wales, share a common industrial base from that era and have long been the significant area of first settlements for migrants. These areas are contained within the natural boundaries formerly mentioned.

Objection to the 2009 Federal Redistribution Proposal as it affects the Electorate of Reid

We, the undersigned voters of the Electorate of Reid, object to the proposal to eliminate this Electoral Division on the following basis:

1. The Seat of Reid is named for former NSW Premier and former Prime Minister George Reid, and is consistent with naming Electoral Divisions. Another former NSW Premier, Jack Lang also represented Reid in the Federal Parliament.
2. The proposal to create a new seat of McMahon, after Sir William McMahon, a former Prime Minister, should not be made at the expense of the memory of an earlier Prime Minister. This new seat is proposed to encompass a considerable portion of the Reid Electorate notably from Duck River bounded by the Water Pipe Line to Centenary Drive at Homebush.
3. The proposal divides the suburb of Granville, effectively the centre of Reid into at least two divisions those of Blaxland and Parramatta. The Reid Electorate Office has been established in Granville for approximately 50 years.
4. The proposal eliminates natural boundaries such as the Sydney Potts Hill /Prospect water pipe line, the Western railway line, the Liverpool Granville or Liverpool Regents Park railway lines, Parramatta River and Duck River. It instead meanders through suburban streets along a boundary that is unrecognized by local residents. The already high informal vote will increase.
5. Related to the above is the lack of community of interest contained in the proposals, ie the residents of Lidcombe, Auburn, Granville, and Harris Park live in suburbs established in the early formation of New South Wales, share a common industrial base from that era and have long been the significant area of first settlements for migrants. These areas are contained within the natural boundaries formerly mentioned.

Objection to the 2009 Federal Redistribution Proposal as it affects the Electorate of Reid

We, the undersigned voters of the Electorate of Reid, object to the proposal to eliminate this Electoral Division on the following basis:

1. The Seat of Reid is named for former NSW Premier and former Prime Minister George Reid, and is consistent with naming Electoral Divisions. Another former NSW Premier, Jack Lang also represented Reid in the Federal Parliament.
2. The proposal to create a new seat of McMahon, after Sir William McMahon, a former Prime Minister, should not be made at the expense of the memory of an earlier Prime Minister. This new seat is proposed to encompass a considerable portion of the Reid Electorate notably from Duck River bounded by the Water Pipe Line to Centenary Drive at Homebush.
3. The proposal divides the suburb of Granville, effectively the centre of Reid into at least two divisions those of Blaxland and Parramatta. The Reid Electorate Office has been established in Granville for approximately 50 years.
4. The proposal eliminates natural boundaries such as the Sydney Potts Hill /Prospect water pipe line, the Western railway line, the Liverpool Granville or Liverpool Regents Park railway lines, Parramatta River and Duck River. It instead meanders through suburban streets along a boundary that is unrecognized by local residents. The already high informal vote will increase.
5. Related to the above is the lack of community of interest contained in the proposals, ie the residents of Lidcombe, Auburn, Granville, and Harris Park live in suburbs established in the early formation of New South Wales, share a common industrial base from that era and have long been the significant area of first settlements for migrants. These areas are contained within the natural boundaries formerly mentioned.

Objection to the 2009 Federal Redistribution Proposal as it affects the Electorate of Reid

We, the undersigned voters of the Electorate of Reid, object to the proposal to eliminate this Electoral Division on the following basis:

1. The Seat of Reid is named for former NSW Premier and former Prime Minister George Reid, and is consistent with naming Electoral Divisions. Another former NSW Premier, Jack Lang also represented Reid in the Federal Parliament.
2. The proposal to create a new seat of McMahon, after Sir William McMahon, a former Prime Minister, should not be made at the expense of the memory of an earlier Prime Minister. This new seat is proposed to encompass a considerable portion of the Reid Electorate notably from Duck River bounded by the Water Pipe Line to Centenary Drive at Homebush.
3. The proposal divides the suburb of Granville, effectively the centre of Reid into at least two divisions those of Blaxland and Parramatta. The Reid Electorate Office has been established in Granville for approximately 50 years.
4. The proposal eliminates natural boundaries such as the Sydney Potts Hill /Prospect water pipe line, the Western railway line, the Liverpool Granville or Liverpool Regents Park railway lines, Parramatta River and Duck River. It instead meanders through suburban streets along a boundary that is unrecognized by local residents. The already high informal vote will increase.
5. Related to the above is the lack of community of interest contained in the proposals, ie the residents of Lidcombe, Auburn, Granville, and Harris Park live in suburbs established in the early formation of New South Wales, share a common industrial base from that era and have long been the significant area of first settlements for migrants. These areas are contained within the natural boundaries formerly mentioned.

Objection to the 2009 Federal Redistribution Proposal as it affects the Electorate of Reid

We, the undersigned voters of the Electorate of Reid, object to the proposal to eliminate this Electoral Division on the following basis:

1. The Seat of Reid is named for former NSW Premier and former Prime Minister George Reid, and is consistent with naming Electoral Divisions. Another former NSW Premier, Jack Lang also represented Reid in the Federal Parliament.
2. The proposal to create a new seat of McMahon, after Sir William McMahon, a former Prime Minister, should not be made at the expense of the memory of an earlier Prime Minister. This new seat is proposed to encompass a considerable portion of the Reid Electorate notably from Duck River bounded by the Water Pipe Line to Centenary Drive at Homebush.
3. The proposal divides the suburb of Granville, effectively the centre of Reid into at least two divisions those of Blaxland and Parramatta. The Reid Electorate Office has been established in Granville for approximately 50 years.
4. The proposal eliminates natural boundaries such as the Sydney Potts Hill /Prospect water pipe line, the Western railway line, the Liverpool Granville or Liverpool Regents Park railway lines, Parramatta River and Duck River. It instead meanders through suburban streets along a boundary that is unrecognized by local residents. The already high informal vote will increase.
5. Related to the above is the lack of community of interest contained in the proposals, ie the residents of Lidcombe, Auburn, Granville, and Harris Park live in suburbs established in the early formation of New South Wales, share a common industrial base from that era and have long been the significant area of first settlements for migrants. These areas are contained within the natural boundaries formerly mentioned.
