Dear Redistribution Committee

In the current economic climate I can not see the point of wasting millions on changing boundaries when it is not necessary.

The current boundaries are fairly logical on geographical and community grounds as they basically represent the Pine Rivers area, so why change them? (An exception to that is the Esk area as that has no links to the Pine Rivers area at all).

The Dayboro area in particular has strong links to other communities in Dickson (Samford, Strathpine and much of Pine Rivers shire), but has no links at all to Caboolture, so moving it is illogical.

It would also seem logical to me to have state and federal seats aligned, and the state seat of Pine Rivers endorses this link.

Please reconsider the proposed change - it makes no sense to anyone I have talked to in the area.

Thanks

Ken Dean
