

Lodging a submission under s 131(3) of the Electoral Act – Parliamentary Party

Completing this form:

- This form is for use by a Parliamentary party applying for registration where the Australian Electoral Commission has issued a notice to the party under s 131(1) of the Commonwealth Electoral Act 1918 that it is of the opinion it must refuse the application unless the party is prepared to vary its application.
- Further information about these processes is provided in the Party Registration Guide available at www.aec.gov.au.
- Information on this form is collected under the Commonwealth Electoral Act 1918.

Name of Party

Please enter the party name exactly as it appeared in your original application.

The Electoral Commission has advised us under s 131(1) of the Electoral Act that it is of the opinion it is required to refuse the application to register the party or change the party's details in the Register of Political Parties in its current form, but that we might be prepared to vary the application so that the Electoral Commission is not required to refuse it.

As an applicant we request the Electoral Commission under s 131(3) of the Electoral Act to consider:

1. the party's varied application as set out on the attached page(s);
[if you choose this option, you must provide the further evidence sought by the Electoral Commission in its notice issued to your party]

OR (please strike out 1. or 2.)

2. determine the party's application for registration in its current form.
[if you choose this option, you should expect your application to be refused]

This form must be made by either the secretary of the party or all of the members of the Commonwealth Parliament who are members of, or the member of that Parliament who is a member of, the party. The applicant/s must sign this form and provide their details as provided below and on the reverse of this page.

If the application is being made by the secretary of the Parliamentary party:
