Morning

my first question is in today age of technology we area voting with paper.... Wow.

We have 2 factor identification to have a MyGov account, we had the App and identity controls through Covid, we have so many ways we could manage a voting system, yet we feel cutting down trees and allowing for human error (and potentially intervention) is the best option.

How about when the next opportunity arises, we promote everyone over 18 having a MyGov account, no we don't need identity cards or otherwise, the Governement already has too much info and can identify everyone, so lets just roll it out through MyGov.

Simples.... as the meerkat would say

Cheers
Anthony
