Submission on the proposed South Australian redistribution details

I wholeheartedly support the suggested changing of the federal electorate name of Grey to O'Donoghue. My support of this is per fitting recognition and celebration of the incredible legacy Dr Lowitja ODonoghue imparted on the health and welfare of First Nations people in South Australia. She was also born and raised in the electorate and for me, holds much more significance and moral standing than George Grey.

Re the suggested a boundary change that would bring Riverlea and outer suburban Adelaide into the electorate I do not support. Country MP's should be representing the country. Incorporating areas such as the City of Playford would significantly alter the composition of the electorate, shifting its focus and making it more challenging to provide clear and effective representation for the community.

So Grey to ODonoghue - YES!
Boundary changes to outer northern suburban Adelaide
- NO.
