Submission on the proposed South Australian redistribution details

Category: Boundaries

Details: Yesterday I emailed you regarding my objections to renaming Grey to O'Donohue and the reasons why. Today we are once again contacting you with our request to retain Grey to the already huge electorate that it is. We realise the monumental task that Rowan fulfilled during his time as our elected member of Parliament; the incredible number of kilometres that he travelled annually, and the sacrifices that he made in doing so. Now you have taken over the baton, knowing the huge commitment that it takes to serve the people of Grey. You may have a number of staff to support you, but it is still too much to expect you to increase that enormous workload and responsibility. The electorate of Grey covers so many areas of economic importance to this state - mining, agriculture, fisheries, etc. and contains many large regional centres. To increase the electorate is insane, and as you have stated, would take some of the focus away from the value of regional South Australia.
