Submission on the proposed South Australian redistribution details

Category: Boundaries

Details: Given the electorate boundary realignment proposals, I believe the incorporation of any greater metropolitan area in to the electorate Grey to be unfavourable. This electorate represents an expansive rural, regional and remote portion of South Australia and by including areas, such as Riverlea, within the boundary will lead to poorer representation of the true needs of the region. It can be foreseen in time that this area will continue to grow and expand, and through an electoral realignment is likely to absorb financial and physical resources that are critically required in locations of greater proximity to Adelaide. I strongly oppose moving the electoral boundary for Grey further towards Adelaide.
